Please refer to section IV(B) of the KitchenAid Small Appliance Advertising Policy, currently in effect, for additional details on KitchenAid's Minimum Advertised Price (MAP) policy. NOTE: MAP's are provided for the purpose of establishing eligibility under KitchenAid MAP policy. The Trade Customer alone has the sole discretion to determine both advertised price(s) and selling price(s).

Trade Customer Prices and Shipping Terms – Whirlpool will specify Product prices and shipping terms to be paid by Trade Customer. Whirlpool may change Product prices and shipping or credit terms of sale any time without prior notice. Trade Customer shall pay any tariffs and taxes imposed on the sale of, or otherwise, with respect to the Products purchased hereunder. Any claims for adjustment of an invoice, or for off-invoice payment or credits is agreed to be waived if Trade Customer fails to present it in writing to Whirlpool within one year from the date of invoice or one year from the date that such off-invoice payment or credit allegedly accrued. No claims, credits or offsets may be deducted from any invoice. Whirlpool shall have the right to set off any monies owed to Whirlpool by Trade Customer against any monies due Trade Customer from Whirlpool under any contracts between the parties.

Credit Terms – Whirlpool may change, suspend or revoke credit terms at any time. All amounts outstanding must be paid when due under the terms of the invoice or separate written contract signed by Whirlpool. Any amount not received by the due date may bear interest at the maximum rate allowed by law. Whirlpool has the right to accelerate all balances outstanding on every invoice to Trade Customer if any amount is not received by the due date.

Indirect Sales – KitchenAid may decide in its sole discretion not to sell Products directly to Trade Customer, and to require Trade Customer to purchase Products from an authorized wholesaler. The prices, shipping terms, credit terms, and other terms and conditions of any sale by a wholesaler to Trade Customer are to be determined between that wholesaler and Trade Customer alone, and not by KitchenAid. Any agreement or understanding to the contrary is unauthorized and in conflict with KitchenAid policies. In all other respects, all of the terms of this Agreement between KitchenAid and Trade Customer, including the right of either party to terminate this Agreement, shall continue to apply, regardless of whether Trade Customer purchased from KitchenAid or from a wholesaler.

Excused Performance – Except for Trade Customer’s payment obligations, neither Whirlpool nor Trade Customer shall be liable for loss or damage for any obligation if its failure to perform its obligations results from (a) transportation shortages or inadequate supplies of equipment, materials or energy; (b) compliance with any law, ruling, order, regulation, requirement, policy, decree or instruction of any governmental department or agency; (c) acts of God; (d) acts or omissions of the other party; (e) fire, strike, embargo, war or riot; or (f) any other event or cause beyond its reasonable control.

MERCHANDISING POLICY

The KitchenAid Portable Appliances Retail Sales Agreement requires the Retailer to comply with KitchenAid’s merchandising policy, as set forth below (and as KitchenAid may amend it from time to time).

Retailer agrees to:

- (a) Emphasize the value and quality of Products to consumers.
- (b) Maintain an adequate inventory and attractive display of each authorized brand of Products.
- (c) Instruct customers in the proper operation of Products.
- (d) Maintain well-trained sales people.
- (e) Keep KitchenAid’s printed warranty and any other consumer literature packaged with Products, and provide warranty information regarding Products upon request by customers.
- (f) Protect the confidentiality of information that KitchenAid identifies as “Confidential,” such as price sheets.
- (g) Allow KitchenAid to review and audit Retailer’s sales, inventory and receivables records from time to time and, upon request, provide financial statements to KitchenAid.
- (h) Upon request, provide KitchenAid information sufficient to notify Trade Customers in the event of product-related issues.

In connection with internet transactions, Retailer agrees that:

- (a) Its Web Site must contain an attractive display of current Products to adequately merchandise the Products.
- (b) Any Product information on Retailer’s Web Site must be displayed in four-color graphics, and must include Product model numbers.
- (c) Product warranty information must be available on-line.
- (d) Retailer’s Web Site must be easily navigable and consistently maintained to ensure accuracy of Product information and customer satisfaction. A Retailer’s consumer must be able to access Product information by entering no more than 4 commands (e.g., mouse clicks, keyboard entries, etc.) from the home page of Retailer’s Web Site.
- (e) The Web Site must identify retailer as an authorized retailer of products.
- (f) Retailer must have sufficient resources to ensure adequate customer satisfaction throughout the entire sales process. Customer service assistance must be available at least 6 days per week for at least 10 hours per day.
- (g) Retailer shall ensure that its Web Site content is not misleading and that it complies with all applicable laws and regulations pertaining to Retailer’s operation of the Web Site.

REQUIREMENTS FOR ELECTRONIC TRANSMISSIONS

The KitchenAid Portable Appliances Retail Sales Agreement requires the Retailer to comply with KitchenAid’s requirements for electronic transmissions, as set forth below (and as KitchenAid may amend them from time to time).

Retailer agrees that:

- (a) When sending electronic transmissions, KitchenAid and Retailer will establish user ID’s to identify themselves. The presence of this user ID shall be sufficient to verify the source and authenticity of each electronic transmission.
- (b) Electronic transmissions containing the user ID, and functionally acknowledged as received, will constitute signed writings. Functional acknowledgements shall constitute nothing more than a receipt of transmission.
- (c) Electronic transmissions, or printouts of electronic transmissions, shall constitute an original when maintained in the ordinary course of business.
- (d) The parties agree to exercise reasonable precautions to protect the security and integrity of electronic transmissions between KitchenAid and Retailer.
- (e) Nothing contained or referenced in an electronic transmission shall modify, limit or negate the terms and conditions of the Retail Sales Agreement between KitchenAid and Retailer.
- (f) Electronic transmissions between Retailer and its customers are Retailer’s sole responsibility and any and all liability relating to those transmissions rests solely with Retailer.
